THE ONLY

The Only Animal

The Only Animal is a Vancouver-based company that creates immersive work that arises from a deep engagement with place. The elements are our main media: water, sand, snow and ice and trees. We mix these media with theatrical adventurism, and a love of the extreme. Our performances seek to connect us with all that we are: our elemental identity, the backbone of our humanity and to forge new ways of understanding how to be on earth.

We act on huge stages; the forests, the ocean, human possibility. There we find enormous challenges of the times, including the climate challenges that threaten our existence as a species. We seek creative ways forward and solutionary actions. We love the impossible.

We create theatre to thrill the blood, stir the soul and revitalize the planet.

Message From The Director: Kendra Fanconi

The Only Animal takes its name from a poem by Franz Wright that talks about humans as being the only animal that do various things, “The only animal that cries... that lies down and flies backward in time,” and the only one who can perceive “the tall blue starry strangeness of being here at all.” We have integrated animals in our site-specific shows in the past, starting with the seagull choreography in our first show, Other Freds, the fish in The One that Got Away, and the horse and the dog in tinkers. We’ve longed for a chorus of ducks. But we have never met an animal like slime.

In the course of directing this play, I became a slime farmer. That is, I connected with a lovely scientist, Ian Portman, from Warwick University who sent us some and guided me in raising it. For the last several months I have grown slime, fed, slime, tried to lead it and sometimes repel it, and so often photograph it. I have gasped on opening its container to see its astonishing transformation. And I have come to dearly love it. Here’s why.

Slime is a single-celled organism that clusters in groups. It acts with a kind of group mind. Without a mouth it eats (and it loves porridge oats). Without arms, it explores. Without a nose, it smells danger. Without legs, it runs. Without thinking, it acts. But instead of acting for its singular survival it acts collectively. It acts for the collective good.

Each of us has this potential. What are we but collections of single-cells, within a collection of cellular creatures that make up the animal kingdom and plants too, and eventually the world? What slime wants, if it wants anything, is for us to remember that we too can act on behalf of all living things...

We are the only animal who can think about that.

We thank you for being in our audience tonight, so that we can watch together, listen together, laugh together, and be together, just slightly in the future. And then return to the present moment together, and decide what to explore next.

Kendra Fanconi

The Artistic Director of The Only Animal and the Director of SLIME

Message From The Platwright: Byrony Lavery

Slime, as an idea, began while Ruth Little [Dramaturg] and I, [Playwright] were on a sailing trawler in the north of Scotland. We were part of a Sea Change expedition of scientists, artists, boat builders and archeologists checking out how global warming was affecting our sea. Halfway through our expedition, we took a night sail to Fair Isle, remote home of sea birds, 70 or so staunch humans and spectacular knitting patterns. It was a splendid night, but with combative sea, BIG waves and many of us losing our suppers. We were thus, on mooring, awarded a non-rolling bed on land, courtesy of the Fair Isle Bird Sanctuary. In the bar that night, the, for us, strangest event....a roll call among all the humans of all the birds spotted from dawn to dusk that day on the island.

Something lodged itself in my and Ruth’s brain...something about species other than humans at the centre of things...and when she asked me to join her at the Banff Playwrights lab, we made this the subject of our joint endeavour there.

Somewhere, in the middle of our explorations and conversations in the boat-shaped cabin in the woods, we got interested in slime....in the middle of one night, Ruth sent me an excited email... “There is actually a slime conference...” and the first draft began to form itself... The wonderful Kendra Fanconi attended the lab with another project...we all had gin and tonics...and The Only Animal became the perfect company to make our piece for public consumption...

I am completely thrilled this begins in Canada.

April Viczko

Cosutme Designer

April Viczko is a set, costume, lighting and projection designer. Selected credits include: costumes for Butcher at Alberta Theatre Projects, In the Heat of the Night at Vertigo Theatre, set and costumes for As You Like It at Citadel Theatre, set design for Home at The Belfry and lighting design for Victor and Victoria's Terrifying Tale of Terrible Things for Kill Your Television. April has worked for companies such as Tarragon, Factory Theatre, Workshop West, Windrow Performance. She was nominated for a Dora Award for Outstanding Costume Design for the critically acclaimed Last Days of Judas Iscariot produced by Birdland Theatre. April is an Associate Professor in the School of Creative and Performing Arts - Drama at the University of Calgary. She holds an MFA Theatre Design from the University of Alberta. In 2012, she was honoured with a Distinguished Researcher Award from the Faculty of Arts.

She is President of the Board of Directors for the Associated Designers of Canada (ADC). ADC is a national, professional non-profit arts service organization dedicated to promoting, pursuing and protecting the interests of set, costume, lighting, projection and sound designers working within the performing arts in Canada.

In 2006, she shared the Siminovitch Protege Prize. In 2000 she received a Tyrone Guthrie Award at the Stratford Festival of Canada where she spent four seasons as an assistant designer. She was also Associate Designer at the Canadian Opera Company for productions of Rodelinda and Macbeth.

William Hales

Lighting Designer

William Hales has been a lighting designer, stage manager, technical director, stage carpenter, set designer, box pusher, dresser, follow spot operator and just about every other technical theatre position since he graduated from the University of Regina in 1978. In 1999 he earned his Master of Fine Arts from the University of Calgary and that lead him back to the University of Regina to replace his retired mentor, Gabe Prendergast. Currently, William is the Department Head and teaches the technical theatre and lighting design program at the University of Regina.

With The Only Animal, Bill solved one of Colin's problems with the suggestion of using a geodesic dome, which lead to Bill joining The Only Animal team. He has won a Betty Mitchell award in Calgary for Lighting Design for NiX and shared a Jessie Richardson Award in Vancouver with the Design team of Nothing But Sky. Bill's recent lighting designs in Regina include Dresswriter, End of Winter and The House of Chow Mein for New Dance Horizons and Mary's Wedding, Never Swim Alone and Last Five Years for Golden Apple Theatre.

Bill's true passion is scuba diving. He has over 600 dives and has seen some amazingly beautiful things but has also surfaced with his BC pockets filled with plastic and other garbage that had been tossed into the ocean. With his retirement from the theatre industry coming closer, his goal is to help clean the oceans of the world and join his friends in their efforts of growing coral.

James Coomber

Sound Designer

James Coomber is a queer composer, sound designer and musician and based in Vancouver. Recently he has collaborated with The Arts Club Theatre Company, Frank Theatre, Itsazoo Productions, Savage Society, Vision Impure, The Belfry Theatre, Alley Theatre, Newworld Theatre, Sugarworks Theatre, Caravan Stage Company, Hardline Productions, Move: The Company, Rice and Beans Theatre and Theatre Terrific. He has presented design work at the 2015 Prague Quadrennial and the 2017 World Stage Design festival in Taipei. James is a 4 time Jessie Award nominee, a recipient of the B.C. Arts Council Early Career Development Program mentorship grant and a recipient of the CITT/ICTS Award of Technical Merit as a member of the Flip the Switch Collective. He is a member of the Associated Designers of Canada and graduate of the School of Contemporary Arts at SFU. More info at jamescoomber.com

Colin Cooper

Production Manager

Colin Cooper began solving huge technical design problems for The Only Animal in its inaugural production of Other Freds, including designing a 25' long underwater steel bridge that satisfyingly and safely 'defied the law of basic physics' while allowing seven actors to hover in the waters of False Creek, Vancouver. He has production managed every one of The Only Animal's works since then including their recent off-grid show, Tinkers. As Operations Manager, Colin oversees the greater well-being of a company that likes doing impossible things. Colin was Production Manager for Granville Island Cultural Society from 1999-2011. He has overseen productions and solved technical and logistical problems for the Vancouver Fringe Festival, Theatre Calgary, Theatre Replacement, PI Theatre, Carousel Theatre, and See Seven, among others. Colin received his training from Banff Centre and U.B.C's Fine Arts program in Design/Technical Theatre.

Anthony Liam Kearns

Stage Manager

Anthony Liam Kerns is honoured to be part of The Only Animal's SLIME production in the role of Stage Manager. Previous endeavours include futzing with gizmos in tinkers (The Only Animal), playing tricks in Raven Meets the Monkey King (Axis), getting married in the Bollywood Wedding (South Asian Arts), riding The Number 14 (Axis), avoiding death in Killer Joe (ITSAZOO), and morphing into a human train for Munscha Mia (Carousel).

Outside the theatre realm, Anthony (or Liam, as he is also called) particularly likes baking vegan delicacies, getting lost in second-hand bookstores, spending the entire day outdoors geocaching, and tending to his little patch of a garden with his partner.

Pedro Chamale

Frezzle

Pedro Chamale is a first-generation Latinx-Canadian theatre artist who was born and raised in Northern British Columbia, Canada.

He received his BFA in Theatre Performance from SFU's School for the Contemporary Arts. He then went on to form rice & beans theatre with Derek Chan. Pedro is a performer, director, playwright and theatre jack-of-all-trades. Selected Credits: Broken Tailbone (Nightswimming), Small Town Hoser Spic & Mis Papás (rice & beans), Are We There Yet? (Newworld Theatre), Bull! (Rumble Theatre) and The Show Must Go On (Push Festival). Pedro was the Artistic Resident at Newworld Theatre in 2014 and currently rice & beans theatre is working on a company collaboration with Playwrights Theatre Centre where they are developing two new pieces that will be in residency at the Annex Theatre in the 2018/19 and 2019/10 seasons. Pedro has also worked behind the scenes with local Vancouver theatre companies such as: Full Circle First Nations Performance, Leaky Heaven, Boca del Lupo, Newworld Theatre. The next project for Pedro is directing Christine Quintana's Selfie for Rumble Theatre's Tremors Festival this August.

Anais West

Coco

Anais West is a queer actor, playwright and theatre producer. She is the Associate Artistic Producer at Pi Theatre and a co-producer for the Virago Play Series, an initiative that develops and produces new work by female and trans/non-binary playwrights. Her work as a playwright includes Kill Your Lovers, which was presented at Buddies In Bad Times Theatre's Rhubarb Festival in Toronto and the Fresh Fruit Festival in New York City, and Poly

Queer Love Ballad, a new slam poetry musical she is developing with Sara Vickruck. Poly Queer Love Ballad is the winner of PTC's Fringe New Play Prize and will be presented at the upcoming Vancouver Fringe. It will also be mounted by Pride in Art (producers of the Queer Arts Festival) in their SUM Gallery in 2019. As an actor, Anais has worked with Rumble Theatre's Tremors Festival, Carousel Theatre for Young People, PuSh Festival and the Arts Club. Anais is a graduate of Studio 58.

Sophia Wolfe

Dumbo

Sophia Wolfe is a Vancouver based contemporary dance artist who also works in visual media including photography, film, and video art. Sophia completed her post-secondary dance training in Vancouver through Modus Operandi under the direction of David Raymond and Tiffany Tregarthen. Sophia's dancing has led her to tour nationally and internationally with Company 605, Co-Erasga and has more recently worked with with choreographer Chick Snipper and theatre company The Only Animal. Outside of dance performance, Sophia has created and presented video installations through Vancouver's Contemporary Art Gallery mentorship program, and has since shot and edited many short films involving the body in motion. Her deep interest in dance on screen has led her to organize and curate the first ever International Youth Festival Of Recorded Movement that includes international screenings, community engagement, workshops and commissioning youth artists to create new short films. www.f-o-r-m.ca

Teo Saefkow

God

Teo Saefkow is an actor, dancer, musician, and songwriter around Vancouver, B.C. He is very excited to be part of this beautiful play by Bryony Lavery. Slime touches on something very pressing about the nature of our society, and hopefully after seeing it, you will empathize with the impending threat that we are all facing, and choose to embrace love and acceptance over fear and ignorance. Recent theatre: Evan in The Aliens (Sticks and Stones), Fred/ Young Ebenezer in A Christmas Carol (Gateway), Touchstone in As You Like It, Joselito in The Refugee Hotel, and Troilus in Troilus and Cressida (Studio 58). Teo is originally from Smithers, British Columbia, and is a graduate of Studio 58.

Mason Temple

Ev

Mason Temple is thrilled to be working with The Only Animal, and the wonderful cast and crew of SLIME! Mason is a recent graduate of Studio 58 (Class of 2017, what up). He was last seen as Connor in Green Thumb Theatre's The Code. Other notable credits include Li in Solo Collective's Satellite(s), Manuel in Studio 58's Refugee Hotel, part of the chorus in East Van Panto: Little Red Riding Hood, and Joe Pitt in Studio 58's Angels In America: Part One. Mason would also like to thank his family for always being his number one fans, his friends for keeping him humble, and his girlfriend for putting up with him daily.

Edwardine van Wyk

Barb

Edwardine van Wyk (Eddy) hails from Namibia. She has studied clown under guidance of Steven Hill, David MacMurray Smith and Gina Bastone. She has also studied Grotowski as facilitated by Raina von Waldenburg and continues to do so when the opportunity arises. Recent credits include 12 Minute Madness at the Vancouver Fringe Festival (2017) and Romeo and Juliet at SFU (2017). Eddy graduated with a BFA in Theatre Performance from SFU School for the Contemporary Arts in 2017.

Lisa Baran

Ola

Lisa Baran is an artist and performer currently based in Vancouver. Originally from Winnipeg, Lisa moved to B.C. to study acting at Studio 58 from where she graduated April 2018. Lisa is thrilled to join The Only Animal in this important and imaginative show. Select theatre credits include: Angels in America (Studio 58), The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde (Theatre Crossing), and HAIr (Renegade Arts Co.) Film/ TV: The Man in the High Castle. Thanks to Kendra, Bryony, Colin, her cast, her family and the rest of the crew for helping bring SLIME to life. Another big thanks to her new friend Physarum Polycephalum, for without it, there'd be no show!

About Banff Centre for Arts and Creativity

Banff Centre exists to inspire artists and leaders to make their unique contribution to society. We aspire to be the global leader in arts, culture, and creativity.

Human potential is realized at Banff Centre. As a unique creative and learning experience, we curate innovative programs that develop artists and leaders, inspiring them to conceive and create powerful works and ideas that are shared with the world. Banff Centre is a catalyst for knowledge and creativity through the power of our unique environment and facilities in the Canadian Rocky Mountains, our rich learning opportunities, cross-disciplinary and cross-sectoral interactions, outreach activities, and performances for the public.

Banff Centre is supported by funding from the Government of Alberta through Alberta Enterprise and Advanced Education, Alberta Infrastructure, and the Alberta Foundation for the Arts. Arts programs are supported by funding from the Government of Canada through the Canada Council for the Arts, and the Department of Canadian Heritage through the Canada Arts Training Fund. The Banff Centre experience is also enriched through generous support from individuals, corporations, and foundations.
